ITALIANS HOLD ADVANTAGE IN VIOLENT PIAVE FIGHTING

CONGRESS WANTS ALLIES TO PUT RUSSIA BACK IN THE WAR

Will Demand New Statement of Administration's Aims on Slav Question

BOLSHEVIKI SITUATION IS INTENSELY SERIOUS

All Siberian Groups May Combine to Combat German Penetration Plan

By L. C. MARTIN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Congress is about to demand a new statement of policy from the administration with regard to Russia.

Backed by a growing sentiment for a Siberian offensive to save Russia, even against her will, members favoring American-Japanese co-operation in Siberia will introduce a separate resolution aiming to force from the President some definite explanation of this government's stand.

The sole purpose of this measure would be to get from the President answers to these questions:

Is the United States keeping Japan out of Siberia?

What do France, England and Italy think of Japanese intervention?

Has this government any good reason for further "watchful waiting" on the Russian question?

There is no general criticism of the government's present policy but there is a great desire for information. Congress would be satisfied to get this information privately if publicity at this time would be inadvisable.

Hearty approval probably will be given to the Hitchcock amendment to the army bill, removing the alien enemy taint from Jugo-Slav subjects of Austria in this country by allowing them to enlist in the American army. This amendment, added with President Wilson's approval, is held a strong offensive move against Austria.

The Russian, Jugo-Slav and Turkish-Bulgarian questions are all-engrossing to congress. A careful canvass of both houses today disclosed that if congress were acting right now on its own information and according to its own inclination it would at once:

Declare war on Turkey and Bulgaria.

Declare for giving Japan a free hand in Siberia for purposes of an offensive against Germany. Put all Jugo-Slavs, Czech-Slovaks and Poles in this country in the friendly alien class, to make them available as American soldiers, and increase Austria's troubles.

UPHEAVAL IN RUSSIA CONTINUES TO GROW

By JOSEPH SHAPLEN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, June 21.—Developments in Siberia are intensely serious for the Bolsheviks. It is impossible to glean from reports where the movements are counter-revolutionary but it is most likely that the social revolutionaries of the right are managing it.

M. Schuslowsky, president of the liberal soviets, recently wrote to Premier Lenine indicating that all groups in Siberia, including part of the Bolsheviks, were likely to combine to fight German penetration. He declared that possible inroads in Siberia would necessitate abrogation of the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty. Concluding he said: "Siberia will be forced to accept this viewpoint in defense of its interests and will enter an agreement with the Americans which would lead to expected consequences, namely, loans and trade treaties."

This letter never has been made public.

Lenine and his Moscow crowd are likely to resort to a final desperate move to save themselves—calling in the Germans against the democratic and pro-ally factions. They would term this a part of the necessary compromise while awaiting a world revolution.

Thus the dissolution of Bolshevikism is proceeding rapidly.

Turns Slacker Over to Canadian Army

Huns Are Weaker Than at Start of Their Big Drive

Straight Road to Victory For Allies Soon to Be In Sight, Prospect

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, June 21.—With ten weeks since the beginning of Von Hindenburg's great offensive, his promised "speedy victory" is not achieved.

This does not mean that peace will then be at hand, but the road to victory ought to be stretched out straight ahead.

The west front is now seething, shaking and rumbling like a chain of volcanoes between eruptions.

One thing is certain: The Germans today are weaker, numerically and morally, than at the beginning of the offensive. From prisoners it is learned that fewer German divisions are now on the west front than there were a month ago. Today there are not more than five divisions which have not been in this offensive.

Barely a baker's dozen which have not participated in the drives. In addition to these, more than thirty divisions have been withdrawn and have been training and resting for three weeks.

Altogether Hindenburg has about fifty divisions available for immediate action, whereas 81 were used during the first week of the Somme thrust—these being absolutely fresh and specially trained.

U. S. TROOPS NOW IN ALSACE, 20 MILES FROM THE RHINE

Another Puzzle For Hun to Solve; Is An Important Strategic Measure

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, June 21.—Movement of American troops into Alsace is a strategic measure that must exercise a serious influence on future disposition of von Hindenburg's fast dwindling reserves and may interfere with his plans for a new offensive in Western France.

The new American positions are so far away from the present area of activity along the west front as to compel Hindenburg to organize a large separate reserve force to protect the upper Rhine under sudden American attacks. These reserves must be drawn from the central German reservoirs that make good the losses incurred by Hindenburg's futile drives in Flanders, Picardy and Champagne.

Another strengthening of the German position in Alsace in the face of America's increasing power in that sector must necessarily decrease the striking force of a German offensive toward Paris and the Channel ports. If Hindenburg prefers to take chances with the Americans and weaken his Alsace line for the benefit of future operations in Western Flanders, the Stars and Stripes may be planted on the banks of the Rhine ahead of schedule time.

Americans in Alsace are about 20 miles from the Rhine. Capture of the river near the Swiss boundary might suddenly become an immediate American objective in the near future if Hindenburg leaves the ways guarded only by weak detachments.

Before the German spring offensives began, Hindenburg had a large reserve army stationed near the Swiss border in anticipation of an American attack in that area. There is reason to believe the slaughter of German man power in Flanders, Picardy and Champagne compelled Hindenburg to deplete these reserves very considerably. This is doubtless one of the considerations that led General Foch to send the new American troops into Alsace.

In consequence of General Foch's move, Hindenburg is again compelled to face one of those terrible puzzles that General Foch so persistently forces on the German general staff. If the Rhine is left partly open in Alsace an American offensive is deliberately invited, while if it is closed with heavy German reserve reinforcements the slim chance of reaching Paris or the Channel becomes slimmer still.

STRIKE REPORTS MAY BE ENEMY CAMOUFLAGE, SAYS U. S.

Government Warns Riot Rumors May Precede Another German Offensive

By CARL D. GROAT (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Government authorities cautioned against over-optimism today as a result of reports of Austrian strikes, peace demonstrations and food riots.

Though the State Department and other agencies had reports showing unsatisfactory food conditions and a considerable unrest, it is pointed out these reports have preceded every Teuton offensive so far.

The holding of the Austrian drive against Italy has had a strong reaction within Austria, it is reported here. The Austrians are dissatisfied with the slow progress and it is said nothing short of success there will prevent serious internal troubles.

The attitude of officials are based on these things:

Past experience shows the Teutons manufacture "revolution" stories to make their opponents believe extraordinary effort is unnecessary and that the end of the war is near.

Austria is bound to Germany by debts and a new alliance so strongly that she cannot escape now short of the wildest upheaval imaginable—and Germany is now sending her food.

Announcement soon as to American participation against Austria on the Italian front, however, is expected to further disturb the Austrians.

AMSTERDAM, June 21.—Premier von Seydler, addressing Austrian newspaper men, said that Germany had agreed to send grain into Austria and that some was already en route, according to advices received here today. Hungary is sending potatoes, he said.

ZURICH, June 21.—Strikes, following the recent bread riots, are spreading throughout the Vienna district, according to dispatches received here today.

More than 100,000 workers are reported on strike in the Warschawski airplane factory and the Vulcan arsenal. Riots are said to have occurred in Favoriten, Margarethan, Ottakring and Brigittenau, all suburbs of Vienna.

PARIS, June 21.—Fifty thousand demonstrators who marched through the streets of Vienna Thursday night, shouting, "Peace! Bread!" and pillaging shops, were charged by the police with drawn sabers, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Journal today. Many of the civilians were injured.

FIERCE BATTLE RAGES ON RIVER FRONT; AUSTRIANS LOSE 11,000 PRISONERS

Italian Lancers Make Gallant Charge; Many of Enemy Drowned In Attempt to Cross Stream; Allies Drive Forward at Three Points and Hurl Austrians Back; Still Greater Fighting Expected Hourly As Hun Renews Attempt to Turn Italian Line.

LONDON, June 21.—The Italians have gained a big victory at Nervesa on the west bank of the Piave, and are fighting to complete their success. Nervesa is an important railroad crossing guarding the southeastern approach to Montello.

The Austrians last night crossed the railroad here at several points, but the Italians swept them back before they could consolidate their successes. The Italians threatened to split the Austrians again, beginning the first phase of a flanking movement to cut off the Austrians on Montello.

On the lower Piave, the Austrians have been swept back again. The Italians have regained more than half the ground lost in this region.

ROME, June 21.—Continued Italian successes on all parts of the battle-front are detailed in official reports today. Repeated enemy attempts to take Mount Corno were repelled. The Italians eliminated the western San Dona salient. Several enemy divisions were repulsed at Senzon. A number of Italian guns were recaptured.

ROME, June 21.—American aviators yesterday blew up a bridge the Austrians had just thrown across the Piave.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, June 20. (Night)—Fighting rages incessantly along the whole Piave line from Montello to the Adriatic.

The Italians appear to have the advantage everywhere on this front, particularly above Senzon. Their attacks are carried out with vim and dash while the less successful Austrian counter attacks lack spirit.

Open fighting has permitted the Italian cavalry to act as such for the first time since the new offensive began. In a certain sector on the Piave five hundred mounted lancers made a spectacular charge, crossing five barricades and slaughtering great numbers of the enemy. They captured 70 prisoners, three cannon and three machine guns.

It is now established that five enemy divisions (60,000 men) are on the west side of the river. A considerable number are north of San Dona di Piave, where temporary bridges have been swept away by the flooded river. The Austrians have thrown bridges across in the San Dona sector but the current is less swift here owing to the broadening of the river and the positions are less exposed to Italian artillery fire because of the latter's greater distance from the bank.

The enemy units farther north are still in great danger of capture or annihilation through inability to obtain supplies.

LOAN SHARK IS NEARLY MOBBED IN L. A. TODAY

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—Angered because A. H. Secombe, a money lender, was going to sell the home of Mrs. Jennie Lloyd, widowed mother of two men in the service, to satisfy a claim of $771, said to be due as principal and interest on a $300 debt, a crowd today stormed Secombe's office and forced him to write a check for $298.65 in favor of Mrs. Lloyd under threat of throwing him out the window of his eighth floor office.

According to Mrs. Lloyd, she borrowed $300 in the last three years, paying $600 on it. Secombe filed foreclosure proceedings for $771 and the sale was advertised for today.

Angry citizens crowded the place of the sale, looked over Secombe's books, decided Mrs. Lloyd had overpaid him at a 7 per cent interest rate, and in addition to forcing him to make out a check for this amount, required him to sign a receipt of all claims against Mrs. Lloyd.

ARTILLERY FIRE HEAVY ON THE LORRAINE FRONT

Germans Hurl Over 6,000 Shells North of Toul; Many Gas Attacks

'OFFICIAL' HUN REPORT IS BRANDED AS A LIE

Patrolling Active on American Front; French Advance Slightly

By FRANK J. TAYLOR (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN LORRAINE, June 21.—There was unusually heavy artillery fighting north of Toul last night, the Germans throwing over 6,000 shells.

Boche artillery was also busy in other Lorraine sectors, using large quantities of gas.

The German official report of a successful attack on Seicheprey is a lie. There was no raid. The only one the Huns even attempted died aborning.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—German patrols suffered some loss from American machine gun fire in the region of Chateau-Thierry and the Woerwe yesterday, General Pershing's communique said today.

"Patrolling has been especially active. Northwest of Chateau-Thierry and in the Woerwe hostile patrols suffered considerable losses in patrol encounters and from our machine gun fire. Artillery fighting continues in these regions and in Lorraine."

PARIS, June 21.—The French advanced slightly northwest of Chateau-Thierry, the war office announced today.

"North of Faverolles and at Hautevesnes the French improved their positions and took twenty prisoners," the communique said.

LONDON, June 21.—Successful British raids on the Picardy front and repulse of German local attempts in Flanders were reported by Field Marshal Haig today.

"During the night we captured a few prisoners and machine guns and inflicted many casualties on the enemy in raids and patrol encounters at Aveuilly wood, in the neighborhood of Hebutern and Boyelles and on both banks of the Scarpe," the statement said. "Several hostile attempts to recapture the ground gained by us yesterday morning northwest of Merris were repulsed with loss to the enemy."

"There is nothing further to report."

6 Months Tells the Tale

CHICAGO, June 21.—"Germany has six months to achieve a decision," Lord Dunmore of England told Chicagoans today. "If she does not win in that time she is inevitably beaten. The situation now is very grave, but the balance every day is moving to our side as American troops pour in."

"We may expect continuous fighting throughout the summer," Lord Dunmore said, "and Germany may make some gains. But I feel we shall be able to keep them from gaining their objectives."

Lord Dunmore expects the enemy's great offensive this year along the Somme or between the Somme and Mont Kimmell.

Facts About the Big War Drive

You are not asked to give any money.

You are asked to sign your name to a pledge card guaranteeing that you will invest in certain amounts of War Savings Stamps or "baby bonds" at certain periods during 1918.

You are to name your own amounts and designate the periods of payment, suiting both to your convenience and thus making your burden as light as possible.

The government expects every citizen to pledge himself to invest in War Savings Stamps during the remainder of the year, at such periods as he designates, the largest amount he can possibly save by eliminating all non-essentials.

All you are asked to do is to buy only necessary things and then lend—not give—your savings to your government to help it fight your war.

Remember! The men in our army and navy do not expect luxuries. And if they can do without them and fight for us, the government feels we at home ought to be able to do without them.

The drive ends on National War Savings Day, June 28th.

President Wilson in his proclamation calling on every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before June 28 to save constantly and to buy regularly the securities of the government, concluded: "May there be none unenlisted on that day!"

JUDGE SAYS THAT TONIC IS OUTLAW; DRUGGIST GUILTY

This morning Judge Thomas decided that Maier's Malt Tonic is a beverage, and that its sale in the Fifth Supervisorial District constitutes an offense. In rendering the decision Judge Thomas found P. F. Warren, a druggist of Laguna Beach, guilty of violating the dry ordinance covering that district.

Judge Thomas' decision was rendered upon evidence taken at the preliminary examination. That evidence showed that the liquid is 3.4 per cent alcohol. The ordinance prohibits the sale of any beverage that has over 1 per cent alcohol. The defense alleged that the tonic was a medicine, not a beverage. The judge found that the testimony was such that he concluded that it was a beverage.

Warren is directed to appear before Judge Thomas next Friday for sentence.

COW IS STOLEN FROM GRAND AVENUE CORRAL

Wednesday night a big-horned Jersey cow of dark brown color was stolen from a corral at the home of H. Sevaly, 1342 Grand avenue. At least Deputy Sheriff Cravath is convinced that the cow was stolen. There is much to show that the animal was taken away by intent. The cow was soon to come fresh. She was in a corral well fastened. Nearby was another corral, and in it was a young cow owned by Mrs. Esther Cork of 1336 Grande avenue. Staples were pulled from the fencing, so that Mrs. Cork's cow was also gotten out of the pen. That cow was found in the neighborhood. Cravath thinks that the animal, a lively creature, broke away from her captors. Sevaly's cow, however, was old and sedate, and possibly was easily loaded onto a truck.

MAN'S FINGERPRINTS FREE HIM OF CHARGE

A charge of burglary against W. A. Ferguson was dismissed this morning because his finger prints and palm prints proved positively that he was not the man who broke into Dr. Brothers' office, Ferguson is a horticultural inspector at Beaumont, and he has occasionally had to use morphine tablets for asthma. He had visited Dr. Brothers' office recently, and suspicion was turned toward him for that reason. Examining the office, Deputy Sheriff Maxwell found a hand print on a door. This was photographed and compared with Ferguson's hand prints. The result was convincing, and the case against Ferguson was dismissed.

SOAP GOOD TO STOP GAS LEAKS; AUTO USES

Soap is insoluble in gasoline and is an easily available and thoroughly satisfactory substance for stopping gasoline leaks. It may be used for packing threaded joints the same as white or red lead. An unusual repair of a broken gasoline pipe which was effected on the road not only illustrates what may be done with soap but also demonstrates what may be done to prevent a serious delay; it is typical of the sort of repair that enables the motorist to be independent of the tow rope. The pipe broke off straight across due to vibration. A couple of small wood splints were whittled out to use in holding the ends in alignment. Some cord was obtained and thoroughly soaped from end to end. Then it was wound around and around, the soap packing tight between the strands of cord, so that a tight joint was made. A point to remember when making gasoline connections is not to screw up the stuffing nuts on the fittings so tight that the threads are stripped.

GATHER DATA FOR PERMANENT WAR RECORD OF COUNTY'S SONS

Dr. Freeman of Fullerton and County Treasurer J. C. Joplin have completed plans under which they hope to complete a permanent record to be kept at the courthouse showing the war activities of every son of Orange county who enlists during the war in either the navy or the army.

County Treasurer Joplin's office will be headquarters for gathering the data, but it remains for every person who has a relative or friend in the service to see that the name of that relative or friend is enrolled on the county's honor list. This work has received the endorsement of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

Treasurer Joplin today issued a call to the people of the county to aid in making this record complete. Every person who has any near relative or friend in the service or who knows of some Orange county resident who has gone into the service and whose name might otherwise not be recorded, should fill out the accompanying blank, and send it to County Treasurer Joplin.

ELEPHANTS JOYRIDE IN CIRCUS TRAIN VIA AUTO TRUCK

Even elephants are joy riders in "The World's First and Only Automobile Circus" which began a tour of the United States from Toledo, Ohio, May 15, stopping at cities and towns which never saw a circus before.

Six hundred thousand dollars' worth of pure gold leaf spread on 150 motor trucks of 60 h.p. each causes the brilliancy of these trucks to rival that of a July sun as this new thing, absolutely new in the circus line, moves through the city streets. The procession covers fifty city blocks as it moves along. Only three of these huge trucks can travel safely on a city block at one time, and if it were not for their gay colors, they would be mistaken for a new form of British war tanks.

This new motor circus was mobilized at Toledo through it being a central point for the huge trucks built in various cities to assemble. There are motor menagerie cars, motor sleeping cars, motor kitchens, motor hospital cars, motor service cars and motor gasoline tank cars, besides motor tank cars for oil.

The circus cost on an average $12,000 for each of the elaborately decorated motor trucks. There are nearly 100 of these trucks, which pull trailers. It is estimated they will save $1000 a day on horse feed and railroad transportation and stable hands, as well as locomotive freight cars and other railroad equipment the government needs to win the war.

It will bring its blessing to every cross roads hitherto denied circus joys for lack of railroad facilities. It will make limited jumps to 30 miles a day, so it will be at the next town in the time that it takes the old-fashioned railroad circus to load its equipment on wagons and then re-load on trains.

Gasoline and oil will follow the caravan in tank cars. Creepers tractors will put the circus out of ruts. Each car is driven by a 60 h.p. engine.

The old-fashioned circus hand who drove stakes with mighty oaths will not be in this circus. His place is taken by a car equipped with machinery that drives stakes and pulls them out in a second.

Yet there are those who say circuses are always the same. W. S. S.—

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says: "I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. ## FIERCE BATTLE ON PIAVE RIVER FRONT reinforcements or replenish their ammunition or food supplies. This is particularly the case just south of Candelu, where the Italians drove forward to the river, splitting the enemy forces.

Attempts by the Austrians to cross the river in boats and rafts have resulted in many being swept away and drowned.

Resumption of the Austrian drive southward from the mountain region is expected hourly. This most obvious strategy, success of which would outflank and compel retirement of the whole Pieve line—is believed to have been counseled by Hindenburg and Ludendorff, who are reported to have paid a flying visit to Austrian headquarters. In the initial drive last Sunday the greatest enemy effort was concentrated in the mountain area. But this was naturally anticipated by the Italian command and it was here that the Austrians sustained their most serious reverse. Of the 40 divisions (480,000 men) employed here more than 30 divisions (360,000 men) suffered such heavy losses they were compelled to retire.

The Austrians have been forced to relieve every division used in the mountains on the first day of the drive. This is responsible for the comparative inactivity on that front. The enemy also needs new supplies of munitions and as soon as these are brought up and his divisions reorganized he is expected to strike another major blow from the north.

Despite the fact the Austrians are reliably reported to have used nearly a million men already—practically their entire effective force—a wounded enemy officer declared they still have considerable reserves.

Czecho-Slovak units are aiding the Italian troops and have performed brilliantly.

Official Statement
LONDON, June 21.—The battle along the Pieve river is continuing with great violence, night official statements indicated.

The Italians drove forward at three points, forcing the Austrians back at Montello, north of the Monte Belluno railway and west of San Dona di Pieve. The Austrians made a slight advance west of Senzoni but were promptly driven back.

The number of Austrian prisoners now exceeds 11,000.

"The enemy replied to our fire on the greater part of the Pieve with violent counter attacks, tried out with great tenacity," the Austrian war office said. "All his efforts were in vain."

Berlin reported that small attacks by the enemy north of Albert, southwest of Noyon and southwest of Chateau-Thierry failed with heavy losses.

The Germans also claimed that "between the Meuse and Moselle our thrusting troops penetrated deep into an American position at Seicheprey and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

(This may refer to the attempted German raid, following the American gas projector attack, in Montmarre woods. According to staff dispatches, this was stopped before the Germans fairly left their trenches. The same dispatches said the Americans suffered no losses.)

Paris reported intermittent artillery fighting between Montdidier and the Oise and south of the Aisne. Field Marshal Haig reported successful raids in Flanders.

Dispatches from American headquarters report that American forces stormed German trenches east of Cantigny, in the Montdidier region, inflicting heavy losses and destroying several enemy machine gun nests. The American losses were said to be light.

KILLS WOMAN, THEN TURNS GUN ON SELF

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—That George Ivan Crow, formerly of Salt Lake, shot and killed Mrs. R. Simmons and then turned the gun upon himself with fatal results is the belief expressed by detectives today, following the finding of the two bodies in Crow's room shortly after four shots rang out. Crow left a note asking that his effects be sent to his mother, Mrs. M. B. Crow, 42 South Tenth street, Salt Lake.

Wesley Phipps, Crow's roommate, returning to the room late last night, found the door locked. Crow told him to wait a few minutes, and four shots were heard immediately afterward. The motive for the double tragedy is unknown.

M'ADOO ON REST TRIP IN MOUNTAINS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—William G. McAdoo, director of the national railways and secretary of the treasury, was on his way to a California mountain retreat today on the advice of his physicians.

Late yesterday McAdoo arrived over the Northern Pacific, stayed long enough to attend a downtown theater with Mrs. McAdoo and left for the mountains at midnight. Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo occupied an aisle seat in the orchestra section of the theater and were not recognized by the audience. McAdoo was so hoarse he could scarcely speak above a whisper. He expects to remain in the mountains two weeks.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATES THE WESTERN UNION

WASHINGTON, June 21.—An investigation by the department of justice is being made today to determine whether government messages were transmitted by the Western Union Telegraph Company by messenger instead of wire.

If this were done, it was stated, it would constitute a fraud against the United States, punishable by heavy fine or imprisonment.

Following the seizure yesterday of great masses of messages sent by messenger but camouflaged to appear as having been sent by wire the government today is determining on its next step. Postmaster General Burleson will confer with President Wilson late today.

Further investigation by postal inspectors and the district attorneys which may bar a nation-wide practice on the part of the Western Union of delivering message by trains is proposed, according to the postoffice department.

DOG, BEFRIENDED, NOW SAVES FRIEND'S LIFE

BURBANK, Cal., June 21.—Two weeks ago Joseph Macelvino rescued a dog from a group of tormentors; today the dog reciprocated by saving his new master from a death trap.

Attempting to go to his room on his local ranch, Macelvino was halted by his canine protegee, the animal's actions finally causing Macelvino to investigate before opening the door. Through a window he saw a shotgun tied to the bed, with the muzzle pointed toward the door, with a string connecting the trigger and door knob. The gun was loaded.

Two weeks ago, Macelvino states he refused to aid two men in a draft evasion plot, and he has since received several threatening letters.

IS NOW REAL "SKY PILOT"

DALLAS, Tex., June 21.—Rev. A. J. Osborne, former assistant pastor of Calvary Episcopal church, New York city, has discarded the wings of eloquence and the flights of oratory, and has taken unto himself the wings of an airplane, and is making flights of observation and attack.

He's a real sky pilot now.

He didn't have to go to war, but he's still young, and he found a passage in the Book about "putting on the armor of justice," and took it to mean, in the present instance, an aviator's suit. So he joined the aviation corps—not as a chaplain, but as a fighter.

TY COBB FAR FROM BEING THROUGH YET

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 22.—Folks have been digging up the past performance chart of Ty Cobb, paying attention to this season's races, and have started wondering if Ty isn't reaching the end of his reign as king, queen and cabinet of baseball. They have forgotten Ty's momentous deeds in the recent past, and so have fixed a nice, quiet grave for the Detroit veteran.

It hasn't been so many years ago that the same thing was done for Ty's benefit. He struggled through that season far under his usual average, if one figures from the top up, and finished second to Tris Speaker in the annual American league batting race. The next season, though, Ty got tired of the prattle and vaulted back where he really belongs—right at the head of the procession.

For several years now Ty has been starting late, and this season has been one of that kind. He has been ill, in addition. When he does start, just clear the path for a strong and sustaining drive for the head end of the American league, for that is the point for which the star of the Detroit's will be setting his sights.

Ty isn't through this year. He may be next year. Looking that far ahead is a little too much. Ty may not even leave the American league this year, but he will be right close behind the guy who does, which will be a pretty healthy average if he beats Mr. Cobb.

Just who will be the successor to Ty when he does turn the pace too fast for his aging joints is a hard guess. The pick naturally rests on George Ruth, the slugging demon of the Red Sox, but snap judgment may be a little bad.

ONE DEPARTMENT OF STATE CAN'T CHARGE ANOTHER DEPARTMENT

SACRAMENTO, June 21.—State departments are exempt from payment of fees for the inspection of boilers and elevators by inspectors of the state industrial accident commission, according to an opinion rendered the state board of control today by Attorney General Webb. Webb holds that the state law prohibits one state department from paying another department for the performance of an official service.

The opinion is the result of a claim of $22.50 paid to the industrial accident commission for inspection of three boilers located in the basement of the capitol building last year. George Radcliff, superintendent of the building and grounds, objected to the charge and the board of control consulted Webb for legal advice.

THE FOURTH

Our Fourth of July will ring around the world this year. It will be celebrated, with fire and steel, by nearly a million Americans on the French battle front. It will be celebrated by tens of millions in allied lands, and remembered reverently by hundreds of millions through the earth.

The doctrine of freedom and equality, the gospel of the square deal for every man, which we once regarded as peculiarly our own, has now become the faith of the greater part of mankind.

America, in all that is characteristic and essential, is now more than a country. Instead of a United States of America there is now, in sentiment at least, a United States of the World—and that sentiment, we hope, will soon be a reality.

The principles of our glorious Fourth have become the hope of the human race, recognized as the fathers who shaped them believed they would be. We have waited long, but at last our hour has come.

And when our national birthday is receiving this homage abroad, and our army and navy are consecrating it by new deeds of valor and sacrifice, how shall we celebrate it at home? Surely in a way befitting its new dignity and importance.

Let us regard it now as the birthday of world-freedom, and make it the most memorable of all Independence days. There will be another great and glorious Fourth, when the Hun has been beaten and made powerless for further harm.

REDUCE THE NURSING

Cleveland has been asked by the Council of National Defense "to make an experiment in community nursing, with the idea of reducing the amount of unnecessary nursing care now being given in families employing private duty nurses and at the same time providing for all nursing care really needed in the community." Results of the experiment will be used to plan such work in other cities.

Like the "medical coddling" which citizens were asked to avoid in order that physicians might be spared for the front, the unnecessary nursing may be greatly reduced without any real danger. There are people who now call trained nurses for all sorts of trifling ailments for which they are not really needed.

The real answer to the unnecessary nursing is not the allowing of unskilled persons to do nursing for which professional training is required, but for people to keep themselves well.

Nine-tenths of the colds and sore throats which develop into serious illnesses could be avoided or checked at the onset if people used a little sense in taking care of themselves. Being ill at all is a luxury which we cannot afford in war time.

Sensible food, lots of fresh air and sunshine, exercise, good cheer—these are the real substitutes for the nurse who has gone to war.

BARMAIDS

Bartending has been pronounced by the government a non-essential occupation, and tens of thousands of bartenders of draft age are therefore under the necessity of seeking other employment. What shall be done to fill their places?

New York liquor dealers have been discussing a plan to substitute women. Many of the dealers are in favor of presenting a bill to the legislature permitting the employment of barmaids. The same solution has occurred to liquor interests elsewhere.

It doesn't seem likely, however, that New York or any other state will change its time-honored policy of forbidding the employment of women in saloons. Most Americans think too much of their girls and too little of their bars to bring the two together.

If bars must still be tended, men over the draft age can probably be found to tend them. From the present outlook, however, the problem will soon solve itself by the simple process of bars themselves being declared not only non-essential but also useless and outlawed.

MILITARY MISSIONARIES

Advices from Dublin indicate that there is a plan on foot to send Irish-American troops to Ireland to complete their training.

It sounds, off-hand, like a fine idea. Ireland may seem a bit out of the way, to men eager to reach Paris. Still, it is not far from Dublin to the Channel ports, and there are excellent training facilities there. Our Irish "rookies" would be delighted at the chance.

The main thing, however, would be the moral influence exerted on Ireland by such a move. With a few divisions of Irish-Americans scattered strategically around the Emerald Isle, there would be a wholesome "infiltration" of American ideals.

The Irish people would learn very quickly how little sympathy for Sinn Feinism there is among representatives of their race in America. They would soon have a much clearer and sounder notion of what the war is about, and of the duty of every idealistic race in the world to jump in and help win it.

OUR CHILD-SAVING QUOTA

The raising of that $100,000,000 for the Red Cross detracted attention, for the time being, from another important national enterprise—the saving of the 100,000 babies doomed to die this year if ignored after the usual manner. There hasn't been any great amount of fuss made about the baby-saving campaign inaugurated under the auspices of Dr. Josephine Baker, head of the federal Bureau of Child Hygiene; but the campaign is on, and will continue without interruption in every community that cares enough about its babies to save them.

It is a fairly simple matter, if a city goes about it systematically. It means making sure that the babies get plenty of good milk, protecting them from flies, instructing ignorant and careless mothers in fundamental matters of baby hygiene, seeing that populous neighborhoods are kept clean, watching for contagious diseases and reporting them promptly, etc. These matters are the duties of each baby's parents, and no less the duties of the community as the common parent of all.

A comparison of this campaign with the Red Cross or Liberty Loan campaign is not merely fanciful. It is really a part of our war work. Every community is under an obligation to save its quota of babies, and as many more as possible.

Our own quota is easily computed. It is one baby to every 1000 people.

Every Man Has His Duty

By Raymond S. Spears of The Vigilantes

Every citizen is the guardian of his own share or portion of the national honor. Upon him rests the duty, and sometimes the necessity, of performing some task or undertaking some feat that will cause him certain efforts and demand of him a definite sacrifice for the common good. If a man does not know what is within his power to accomplish, and what rests upon him to do, then he is ignorant of the fundamental requirements of his situation. His first public task is to discover his duty, and then he must do it.

It may be that the faithful performance of a single thing, oft repeated, may serve to redeem the pledge mere living is sufficient to prove against each individual. Thus the workman driving rivets in a ship's plates may be doing his utmost and his best; on the other hand, men living in comfortable seclusion of study and theory, may very well discover that their portion can be done only by abandoning their comfortable and habitual lethargy for a daring and active life.

But the fact remains, that no man can neglect a national duty without peril to his own conscience, and perhaps to his own country. Consider the archer, in the days of old, whose arrow, in the cloud of his fellows' missiles struck through to the heart of the opposing general—as when the unfamed hurler of a javelin, in the hosts of Sapor, found with his lance the liver of Julian, pagan emperor of the Roman empire. Suppose that man had faltered in his strength or effort!

How often has a falsely made fire-arm failed the soldier? How often has a shell missed its billet? How far has individual human neglect restricted the success of the hosts of civilization?

If any man or woman neglects his duty, who shall say what the cumulative effects will be down the centuries? See your duty, and do it!

Democracy Has the Nerve

From the Kansas City Star

One of the general officers of the army recently returned from France was considering the possibilities of American effectiveness on the battle line. "When we get our men there in sufficient numbers," he said, "will we have the nerve to do what the German does? Will we have the nerve to take large losses in a short time for the sake of gaining an objective worth while, or will our people be so tender that the commanders will have to distribute the losses over a considerable period without making the gains possible through a concentrated attack? The German never wastes his men. But if he figures that an objective is worth so many casualties he is ready to take the casualties. Can a democracy stand that sort of thing?"

Democracy did stand it in the Civil war. Americans have grown bazy over the events of those fateful four years. It is only by viewing them in the light of the present situation that people can appreciate what a terrible struggle that was.

Last week the Star pointed out that if the United States today called as many men to the colors in proportion to the population as took part on both sides in the Civil war it would summon close to fifteen million men. The slaughter of the bloody battles from '61 to '65 was greater in proportion to the men engaged than the slaughter in France today.

The democracy that accepted the losses at Antietam, at Gettysburg, at Cold Harbor, throughout the Wilderness campaign, will accept whatever losses are necessary today. The sons of those sires will not flinch. They will not tolerate unnecessary loss of life. But whatever is necessary they will meet. If that were not true America would not be America. Fundamentally Americans believe today as they believed in the days of Washington and Lincoln: It is not all of life to live, nor all of death to die!

Bud Flivver's Observations

*** Aunt Hannah Newcomb said—She had heard some funny names—But the queerest ones—Were Maximum and Minimum—

*** And she asked me—Were they newcomers—And did I know—Whether they were—Brother and sister—

*** And I asked her—What did she mean—Were they—Brother and sister—And she said—Max and Minnie Mum—

*** And I told her—They weren't people—They were just terms—To indicate quantities—Or numbers—

*** And she said the preacher—Used the words—And she thought—He was talking about people—

*** And she said—She asked him—Were they members—Of the church—And he said—He thought Minimum—Was well known—Among church members—

*** But he said he thought—Maximum was a stranger—Among most classes of people—And would frighten church members—

*** And she said she asked him—Was Max a drunkard—Or a skinflint—Or something like that—And he just laughed—

*** And I explained—That maximum meant—When anyone had—The full limit—Of anything—

*** And she said—She had that—And never knew—What it was—But now she knew—It meant the limit—Of poor health—

*** And I told her—That minimum means—The least amount possible—Or a point where—There couldn't be much less—

*** And she said—That must mean—Her pocket-book—Or the milk—Her goat gives—Or the amount she can eat—Without a fit of indigestion—

*** And she asked me—Didn't mum mean—To keep quiet—And if anyone had—The maximum—He would be ashamed—And want to keep mum—

*** And if anyone—Had the minimum—He wouldn't have—Much of anything—And would want to—Go away somewhere—And hide his shame—By keeping mum—

*** And it was hard—For me to explain—And I told her—I was glad—She had caught—The right idea—By Bud.

'OVER THE TOP' IS THRILLER, IS FILLED WITH WAR SPIRIT

One of the most thrilling war pictures yet presented on the screen is "Over the Top," shown last night at Clune's Theater, with Arthur Guy Empey himself as the hero. Empey's book, "Over the Top," is known wherever war literature is read, and the picture version, with Empey in the cast, is arousing tremendous interest and enthusiasm. Although new to the stage or screen, Empey plays his part like a veteran, and puts the fire and force of his own experience into the characterization. The battle pictures are startlingly realistic, and give a better idea of trench warfare than any pictures yet shown.

The actual process of "going over the top" was made so exceedingly real that the audience has a better idea of the real process than anything else could give. There was humor mixed with pathos in the scene, showing the boys who are to go over the top writing the letters always written on such occasions, to the folks at home. "If you get this letter, you will know that your boy is dead," scribbled one boy to his mother, and after a moment's earnest meditation, he finished with, "hoping you are the same, your loving son." —W.S.S.

Political Announcements

Howard A. Wassum, well known Tustin resident, who aspires to nomination for supervisor from the Fifth Supervisorial district, at the primaries, has many friends who believe that he is the man for the place. Wassum has been a resident of this section since 1900 and has been engaged in farming enterprises on the San Joaquin Ranch, at El Toro and this year is farming in Trabuco canyon.

He is a Spanish-American war veteran, having enlisted in San Francisco. He was with Co. A, Heavy Artillery, and saw a year of active service in the Philippines. He was a member of Co. L of this city some years ago, reaching the rank of First Lieutenant and was in command of the company during the period between the resignation of W. A. Greenleaf and the election of N. A. Uim as Captain.

He was road boss under George Angle when the latter was chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

—The office of justice of the peace of Orange township will not be a very remunerative position after this term. By some hocus-pocus or other, the legislature cut off $25 per month from the salary of the office. The city trustees of Orange cut off another $25 per month by withdrawing the office of recorder from the justice. Hereafter, then, the total income for the justice of the peace of this township will be $50 per month. However, notwithstanding this meager compensation for a man's full time, I am announcing my candidacy for re-election, because there does not seem to be anything else in sight that I can do to piece out my income. It is not necessary in this announcement to explain why I am not prepared to voluntarily retire from public life; neither do I deem it necessary to exploit my qualifications for the office. Suffice it to say that I need the salary for the same reasons that other people need money, and that the general good order of the township is evidence in my favor as to fitness for the place. —SAMUEL ARMOR.

The Baldwin Dry Air Refrigerator

The Box with the Steady Cold Wave.

—The Baldwin is built of best quality materials throughout and has more exclusive features than any refrigerator we know of. By the Baldwin method of construction, we have a perfect airtight dead air space between the walls, a most desirable feature, dead air being considered the best non-conductor of heat. No charcoal or other filling being used, the walls do not bulge or swell.

—We carry Baldwin Refrigerators in all styles and sizes at $12.50 to $75.00.

Other Special Features of the Baldwin

—Odorless rubber insertion is put around the edges of the doors and lids of Baldwin Refrigerators. This in combination with the patent lever wedge lock, makes an exceptionally tight joint, and is a great ice saver.

—We would be pleased to demonstrate the many desirable qualities of the Baldwin Refrigerators.

OLD-TIME WELL NOW USELESS: WAS BORED IN 1898

After Twenty Years of Activity, Famous Nichols Well Collapses

The famous Nichols-Hending well, pioneer irrigator of the Garden Grove district, is no more, and after twenty years of usefulness has given up the ghost. The well is located on a 20-acre tract two and a half miles north-east of Garden Grove, and was bored in 1898 by Jesse Nichols and W. H. Hending, owners of the property, it being the first well put down in that locality and in its prime was one of the best. Hending sold his interest six years ago to J. T. Lamb, who now owns half-interest in the property with Nichols.

The Nichols 10-inch well became famous from its pioneer activity, and from the fact that it was the first to use a gasoline engine for pumping and later was the first to be pumped with an electric motor. Several adjoining ranchers were supplied from this well, including J. Swartzbaugh, Fred Hunt, Charles Williams, Ira Williams, W. J. Freeman and Harold A. Leiby, assistant district agent of the Southern California Edison Company with offices in Santa Ana.

Recently the well was sand-drilled, during which process the casing was injured and through long usage collapsed, so the well is numbered among the things that have been.

The old-time well is soon to be replaced with a new twelve-inch well, which is being drilled by Contractor Cunningham of Bolsa. M. R. Shipley of Santa Ana has the contract to furnish the pump. While the new well has been under way, crops formerly irrigated from the Nichols well have been supplied with water from the plants of E. E. Haase and J. E. Snale. —W.S.S.—

DINNER FOR TEACHERS

Faculty and Board of McKinley School Entertained By Mrs. Norton

On Wednesday evening of this week Mrs. J. W. Norton, Past President of McKinley Parent-Teacher Association, entertained the teachers of this school and the incoming executive board of the association at dinner at her home. Through the courtesy of Mr. F. D. Drake, autos were waiting at the close of school to convey the teachers to Mrs. Norton's home, which they found beautifully decorated with pink Mam-an Cochet roses and hydrangeas. Low bowls of the beautiful roses centered the two tables. Mrs. A. H. Small, the incoming president, presided at the head of the table, around which the teachers found their places. Cards bearing the eagle and shield marked each plate. At the other table were seated the ladies of the board, presided over by Mrs. Norton.

Misses Thelma Carl and Isabelle Boyd assisted Mrs. Norton in serving her guests. Music and pleasant conversation occupied a pleasant evening, after which good-byes were said and good wishes exchanged for the joys of coming vacation. This pleasant informal affair marked the close of a very profitable year's work.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Norton were Dr. Hammond, Misses Andrews, Heli Hastly, White, Bauer, Phillips, Cleveland and Mrs. Emma Hart Barnes, Mrs. A. H. Small, Mrs. R. A. Paul, Mrs. J. W. Sackman and Mrs. F. D. Drake.

Dr. W. C. Dubois will be in Dr. Ball's office from 2 to 5 p. m. during the latter's absence from the city.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Margaret Turner Entertained Friends Yesterday Afternoon

Little Miss Margaret Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Turner, celebrated her seventh birthday yesterday with a merry party given for her by her mother. On a table under a big umbrella tree on the lawn, the pretty feast was spread. Ten happy children, besides the hostess, gathered around the table, and the big white birthday cake with its seven pink candles was much admired and much enjoyed. Many birthday presents, including Thrift Stamps, were bestowed upon the little maiden. One of the most valued gifts was a picture of Margaret's father's company, which Mrs. Turner had framed for her little daughter. Margaret's father is in his country's service now at San Antonio, Texas.

Happy games made the afternoon fly quickly by. The friends who shared the party were: Gladys Cope, Margaret Whitted, Veda and Eleanor Mitchell, Marcia Keeler, Florence Turner, Jefferson Hosea, Vincent Hosea, Daniel Cook and James Lash.

Fraternal Brotherhood Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge Thursday evening a summer drive for new business was launched and one application was received. Next Thursday evening will be given over to an ice cream and box social benefit for the Red Cross, and all members are urged to note the time and occasion and attend this meeting with all the boost spirit at their command.

A War Savings Society was organized with Theodore Reuter as president and Helena Galbreith as secretary. Six lodges of the Fraternal Brotherhood in Orange county are organizing and boosting War Savings Societies, with the belief that our first duty is to support our Government in its war measures and win the war.

Postal Clerks Enjoy Picnic

On Wednesday evening the clerks of the local post office temporarily forgot all about train schedules, city distribution schemes, prices of War Saving Stamps, etc., and betook themselves to Orange county park for their monthly meeting. Arrived there, a supper of wienies, buns, salad, etc., was served in true picnic style. After the repast the evening was spent in various ways, some of the boys engaging in a ball game while others preferred a "sail" on the lake. Everybody had a delightful time, and the evening was voted a great success by all present.

Congregational Missionary Society

Mrs. William Douglas was hostess Wednesday afternoon at her pleasant home on North Main street to the missionary department of the Congregational church. ## FOR MISS LEE

Pretty Courtesies Are Shown Bride-to-be By School and Church Friends

Miss Ursula Lee, whose marriage to Professor Harold G. Block will occur on the 11th of July, was paid a very pretty compliment yesterday afternoon at the Lincoln school, where she is a member of the faculty, when her fellow teachers presented her with some beautifully engraved silver spoons. Another piece of silver was given Miss Lee by her pupils, with whom she has been very popular, and who regret that she will no longer be numbered among their teachers.

At the First Methodist parsonage last evening, Miss Lee was again made the recipient of a beautiful piece of silver, the donors being the members of the Philathea Class of the church. The class had one of its enjoyable suppers at the parsonage last night, and availed themselves of this opportunity to extend the pretty courtesy to Miss Lee.

Professor Block was formerly a member of the Santa Ana High School faculty, and now holds a similar position in the high school at Sacramento.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Sedgwick Post W. R. C. Honored the Memories of Departed Members

The members of Sedgwick Woman's Relief Corps met in G. A. R. hall yesterday morning and arranged flowers, which they took to the cemetery and placed upon the graves of their deceased members.

Light refreshments were served at the hall upon their return, and at 1:30 o'clock memorial services were held for the four members who have passed away during the year just ended. Mrs. Alice Yount gave the address in memory of Mrs. Mary Buck; Mrs. Julia Garrison in memory of Mrs. Mary Brockett; Mrs. Emma Lieser for Mrs. Martha Harmon, and Mrs. Kenyon for Mrs. Mary Boyer.

At the conclusion of these services, the regular meeting of the Corps was held. The treasurer's report showed a good financial account, and Mrs. Emma Lieser reported receipts of the last tea $27. The number of members as stated by the secretary was 238.

The date of the next meeting falling on July 4th, it was decided to change to July 3rd.

On Wednesday next, June 26th, the ladies are invited to attend an open meeting of Sedgwick Post, on which occasion visiting Sons of Veterans will be present in the endeavor to form an organization of that order in Santa Ana. An ice cream social will be a feature of the entertainment.

The thanks of the Corps were tendered the members of Sedgwick Post who so kindly furnished automobiles and assisted in the decoration of graves yesterday morning.

NAVAL RECRUITING PARTY HERE NEXT WEEK, VIA AUTO

Traveling Detachment From San Francisco Makes Drive In County

Acting under orders of the commandant of the Twelfth Naval District, Capt. Robert L. Russell, U. S. navy, the travelling enrolling party will make a week's recruiting drive in Orange county, enrolling applicants for the naval reserve force, it was announced today.

The advance work in Orange county will be in charge of Machinist's Mate H. E. G. Curzon, who arrived today in the official navy automobile.

Machinist's Mate Curzon will spend several days in each of the Orange county towns, accepting applications and making the preliminary examinations. He will be in Santa Ana during the coming week. Men interested in the naval service are invited to meet him, presenting their releases from the local board at that time, if they are within the draft age.

On Thursday, June 27th, the final examinations and enrollments will be completed and oath of allegiance administered to accepted applicants from Orange county. It will not be necessary for the successful candidates to journey to Los Angeles for this purpose, as the enrolling officer, Ensign Harvey L. Miller, and the examining surgeon, Assistant Surgeon W. F. R. Winnard, will make a special trip for that purpose, establishing the main office in Anaheim next Thursday.

Candidates accepted by Machinist's Mate Curzon in the various Orange county towns are to be in Anaheim on Thursday by 8:30 a. m. All branches of the naval reserve force are now open. The service is for full naval service for the war only, as members of this branch have the privilege of resigning in times of peace. Original orders to active duty are for the naval reserve training camp at San Pedro or the section naval base or naval air station, San Diego.

For further information stop the navy car at any time and speak to Machinist's Mate Curzon.

Tomorrow is "Heart Day" in Santa Ana and everybody will wear 'em. "Have a heart and save a child" is the slogan, and as the proceeds go to aiding homeless waifs to secure good homes through the Children's Home Society of California, the day's receipts will undoubtedly be large.

The "Heart Day" committee is composed of Mrs. Lloyd Grubb, chairman; J. Dick Wilson, J. E. Gowen, R. Scott, Wilson, H. J. Forgy, James B. Roberts, Minnie B. Spear, C. F. Crose, Lucy Evans, A. J. Crookshank, John N. Anderson, and this committee will be assisted by Mrs. Mildred B. Kennedy, district superintendent of the extension department, A. J. Crookshank is treasurer of the fund.

The headquarters of the day's heart sales campaign is at Elks' hall, which will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. tomorrow, and the committee invites all who can assist in the sales to call there for a supply of the little red hearts.

A patriotic friend has offered to give a very pretty silk American flag to all who collect $5 or more for hearts on Saturday. The flag is 18 inches long and 12 inches wide. Sam Stein will give one Anasco Buster Brown camera for the largest collection for the sale of hearts. The Santa Ana Hardware Company will give a pocket flash light. Carl G. Strock will give a pair of lingerie clasp. Sam Stein will also give one Ever-sharp pencil. A pair of silk hose will be given the girl who brings in the second best results for the sale of hearts.

Something of the Work

The Children's Home Society of California is endorsed by the State Board of Charities and Corrections, Social Service Commissions, Chambers of Commerce, etc. The purpose is: To place dependent children in approved family homes; accept children from every county in the state; Co-operate with juvenile courts, local institutions, etc. It is non-sectarian and supported by voluntary contributions. It is incorporated under the laws of the state "to seek out homeless, dependent, abused and neglected children; to provide for their care, maintenance and education by securing their settlement in approved family homes."

This is its twenty-fifth year, and during that time homes have been found for 3662 abandoned children at an average expense of less than $100 for each child.

Enough matches to light all its contents are attached to a recently invented cigarette box.

TWO VOLUNTEERS ARE LISTED, PROBABLY GO TO SCHOOL

Five Men Are Given Physical Examinations By Draft Doctors

DRAFT MEN MONDAY TO TAKE TRAIN AT ORANGE

The drafted men who leave No. 1 district of Orange county for Camp Kearny next Monday will take the train at Orange instead of Santa Ana. This announcement was made late this afternoon by the local exemption board. Orange has contributed a big share of men to the draft contingents, and it was that city's request, made through a committee consisting of George Hart, Clyde Newton and others, that the contingent start from Orange this time. Permission to have entrainment at Orange instead of Santa Ana was secured from Adj. Gen. Borree. The district's quota is thirty-four.

Orange will give the men a dinner Monday noon. Exercises will start at 1 p. m. Perry Weidener of Los Angeles will be the speaker. The demonstration will be used to usher in the Orange War Savings Stamp drive, which will start on Tuesday.

The exemption board of No. 1 district today reported to Adj. Gen. Borree that two volunteers had been listed to go to the mechanical training schools to be conducted by the government in Los Angeles and Berkeley, commencing July 1. The men listed are James Irvine, Jr., of Santa Ana R. D. 7, and Ray Catherman, now of Long Beach.

Those who go to these schools are to be given special training for special kinds of mechanical work needed in the army. They will be in the army from the day of their arrival at the school. Whether or not these men will be accepted for the quota will probably be learned in two or three days.

Five Are Examined

Yesterday five men were examined by the local draft board. Two men were held for full military service and three for limited service. Those held for full service are William C. Handley of Orange and Lupe Bustillos of El Modena. Those held for limited service are John L. Cornelson, Orange; Hamilton L. Keddie, Orange; and Louis C. McKee, Santa Ana, the latter being examined for Asheville, N. C.

The men are to entrain July 15. The list of state quotas announced did not include any of the Pacific Coast states.

SALVATION ARMY IS ACTIVE IN WORK FOR SOLDIERS

Graphophone Needles and Records Needed For 'Huts' With U. S. Forces

An urgent appeal has come from France for graphophone needles, records, etc., where the Salvation Army has huts and is doing its utmost to make the life of the soldier boys "over there" happy.

Fred Fergusson (United Press staff correspondent) told of the Salvation Army work as he saw it at the front, and a united effort is put forth to supply the Salvation Army with these things.

Capt. F. Schute will be pleased to call anywhere for anything wished to be sent to the soldiers. The Salvation Army phone is 308-J.

The Salvation Army has also a large hut at San Diego, which is also making an appeal for needles, records and music rolls.

The following is an extract from General Strong's letter to Colonel Lee, officer in command of the Salvation Army in California. General Strong, who has recently returned from France and is in command of Camp Kearny at San Diego, urged the opening of the hostel in that city. In a cordial letter to Lieut.-Colonel Lee, the General says:

"Just as soon as we receive definite information as to the date of opening, I will have announcements made throughout the command, so that everyone will be informed, and have the privilege of taking advantage of your splendid facilities.

"I want to thank you for the efforts of yourself and the Salvation Army in general in behalf of the men in the service.

(Signed) "F. S. Strong, Maj.-Gen., N. A. Commanding." Capt. F. Schute extends a hearty invitation to any one who happens to go to San Diego to visit the Salvation Army hut for soldiers.

CLASS DAY HELD YESTERDAY AT POLY HIGH

Senior Class day exercises held in the Poly auditorium yesterday afternoon, were very interesting.

The Senior Class, carrying chains of daisies, their class flower, marched in singing the school song, after which the class song, "Carry On," was sung.

The program was opened with the reading of the oracle, which depicted many interesting events to happen to members of the class. This prophecy was read by Miss Katherine Beswick.

The class will was especially amusing, in which members who have conspicuous characteristics wished them upon other unfortunate. The will was read by Miss Mary Blake.

The "Medicine Show" took down the house. The conversation took place on the south bank of the Ohio river, with Marc Todd, William Taylor, and Bertram Snow as the linguists. They are fishermen discussing the possibilities of establishing a medicine show. The language they used is altogether grammatically correct, and in two instances the phrases were simply awful.

"Under Sealed Orders" was also interesting and featured three witches who stalked around in a circle and talked in uncanny voices.

The class tree was planted on the west side of the Science building.

INSTALL OFFICERS OF POLY HI STUDENT BODY, PAUL BRUNS, PRESIDENT

In his address of relinquishment, president Edmund West stated that next year would be the most difficult in the history of the school on account of the war, and that he was perfectly confident that the president-elect could hold down his end of the game.

President Bruns took the gavel, swearing to uphold the honor of the school to the best of his ability.

SANTA ANA AT NORMAL WELL REPRESENTED

Santa Ana was well represented at the commencement exercises held yesterday at the Los Angeles State Normal school, finishing a two years' course. The graduates were Misses Stella Anderson, Pearl Camblin, Olive Lopez, Xina McArthur, Eunice Jones, Lela James, Ramona Clevenger, Thelma Taylor, Rachael Phelps, Jessie Files; Clyde Crawford of Orange and Miss Hazel Rosenbaum of San Juan Capistrano.

There were 436 women in the class and nineteen men and they were given the compliment of being pronounced as one of the most efficient classes ever graduating from Normal. They made a fine record for war activities, sending a $1600 ambulance to France, bearing the name of the class, and presenting the school with a $100 Liberty Bond, besides doing much Thrift Stamp and Red Cross work. Announcement cards were done away with this year, the money being devoted to war activities.

FORTY-FOUR RECEIVED DIPLOMAS FROM ANAHEIM HIGH

No Junior College Next Year, Principal Announced at Commencement

ANAHEIM, June 21.—War-time simplicity marked the 1918 commencement exercises of the Anaheim Union High School, when forty-four diplomas were awarded. Instead of the gay and costly attire of former years each student was clothed in the collegiate gown and mortar board. This was an economic and patriotic move as the class long ago unanimously decided that there would be no unnecessary expenditure at this graduation as the government needs the money to help maintain the fifty-seven former high school students now in the service.

The class roll was as follows:

Ailene Anna Adams, Avis Edna Barfoot, George H. Betzold, Grace Eleanor Bleck, Margaret Cole, Harriette M. Corwin, Henry B. Dalton, Stanley Milton Falkenstein, Pearl A. Filer, Maria E. Fisher, Earle C. Gilbert, Ralph Alvin Gilder, Ralph Herbert Goodale, Helen S. Hedstrom, Edna L. Hochuli, Bernard Lakoi Hoyt, Alice S. Huhn, Rudolf Bernhard Jacobson, Elmer R. Jans, Elva Marie Jensen, Edith A. Jensen, Gladys Vesta Jessup, Johanna Jessurun, Faye Alice Kern, Margaret Pauline Lawrence, Hazel Myrtle McFarland, Norma R. Meckes, Vera Mae Meckes, Erma Clair Mills, Florence Martha Myers, Mary Elizabeth Owens, Harold P. Ross, Frances F. Schmidt, Elizabeth Smith, Lula Ursella Smith, Teresa Elizabeth Standlee, Grace E. Steele, Arthur Stock, Alice Tardy, Gladys Marion Thomason, Erma Eleanor Walder, Emily May White, John Warren Wilson, Arthur F. Willett.

Doiton was the only one who did not wear the gown, as he is wearing Uncle Sam's naval uniform and is not permitted to conceal it. When he filed past to receive his diploma he was given an ovation by the audience. Prof. Prince announced that Henry Mang, a junior college graduate, is also in the navy and could not be present.

No, 1919 Junior College

Prof. Prince announced that next year there would be no junior college as the number of students enrolling for it would not justify its continuance. However, a post graduate course will be given in the high school.

Memorial Goes to France

It is customary for the graduating class to leave something behind in the way of a memorial, but Stanley Falkenstein, who had been chosen to make the presentation address, announced that all the money collected for the purpose had been sent to Europe for the relief of suffering children in France and Belgium. It is understood the fund amounted to several hundred dollars.

Major J. S. Malcom, in command of the cadets, made a short talk on this branch of the high school training and announced the following officers for next year. Commissions issued by Adjutant General Borree were presented, each officer receiving a hearty cheer as his or her name was announced:

Boys' Cadets—Cadet Major, Reginald White; Battalion Officers, Gerald E. Shiner, Bat. Adj., Elmer C. Rogers, Harry D. Briscoe; First Lieut., Alva C. Rogers; Second Lieut., James Whitaker, Officers 43rd Co.; Captain, Edwin A. Schleuter; First Lieut., Kenneth F. Goodale; Second Lieut., Kenneth Arkley.

Girls' Cadets—Officers Co. A: Captain, Ruth H. Chamberlain; First Lieut., Wilhelmina Zitzmann; Second Lieut., Dorothy P. Quanton. Officers Co. B: Captain, Ida S. Manter; First Lieut., Edith E. Reddit; Second Lieut., Ruth E. Reed.

'FIND OUT WHAT YOU'RE GOOD FOR,' INTERMEDIATES ARE TOLD

"Find Out What You're Good For" was the title of an address given last night by Judge W. H. Thomas, at the graduation exercises at the Intermediate school, when 125 students received their diplomas, five being from the commercial department. Judge Thomas contrasted the opportunities for students now as compared with his early life. He and his associates got up and did the chores of mornings, walked two miles to school, getting there by 9 o'clock, left at 4, walked two miles home, did the chores, and studied, then had nothing to do till tomorrow, meanwhile having all they could do to keep from freezing.

As a contrast with modern conditions, he said, some of the students nowadays "come to school in $2000 automobiles over $10,000 pavement and study in a $150,000 building, with teachers so far ahead of old-time teachers that here is no comparison."

He impressed upon his hearers, who occupied a reserved section in the center of the assembly hall, that they should prepare themselves to be useful in the world and so would be ready for opportunities when they came. He said he had no patience with the girl who was very "busy" practicing her music about supper time when her mother was working in the kitchen, and immediately after supper went with some chum to the movies. Such a method, carried out permanently, he said, would make a girl of no use to herself or anybody else.

He said the boys will win who do not watch the clock and who are just as anxious to get to work on time of mornings as they are to leave in the evening. He pointed out the big job David had as king and asked: "Do you think David became king by accident? Not on your life. He was made king because of his long preparation and the fact that he was ready for the responsibilities."

Features of the Program

The exercises last night were opened by an orchestra selection and the graduates' march by Professor Harry Garstang, the class members marching into the hall and taking their places in a section reserved for them. The girls wore white middie and skirts with blue ribbons and ties, and the boys wore white blouses, blue ties and dark trousers. The invocation was given by Rev. Vicente Mendoza, and several splendid numbers by the orchestra led by Mr. Garstang. Two songs were sung by the graduating class, "A Merry Heart," and "The Sea King's Bride," and two by the commercial class, "The Flag Is Passing By," and "Night."

City Superintendent J. A. Cranston, in presenting the diplomas, made a very interesting speech to the graduates, impressing upon them the necessity of further education if they are to make the best of their opportunities. He expects to see most of them at the high school next year, and advised them to study harder at the high school than they have at Intermediate, for although there are only four subjects in the high school, compared to twelve at Intermediate, more study and concentration is demanded to master the four higher subjects. He said it is not always ability that wins, as determination in the long run often proves the master of native ability undeveloped. "Reputation," he pointed out, "is what men think of us, while character is what God and the angels know of us."

GARDEN GROVE*YANKEES NOW LIVE IN BARRACKS BUILT BY NAPOLEON*Burns Chaffee Writes of Trip; Breakfast Slid off Stove During Storm

GARDEN GROVE, June 21.—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chaffee are in receipt of a letter from their son, Captain Burns J. Chaffee, M. R. C., which is very interesting. Two days after leaving an Atlantic port, he was given a letter from his parents. Some extracts from his letter follow:

"Somewhere in France.

"I have many interesting things to tell you, some day after the war is over, which I am not permitted to relate at present. The trip across was delightful for the most part. We had but two days of rough weather. These came about the middle of the voyage. We had a heavy gale from the north east that brought a cold rain and the swells rolled high. Our vessel rolled and pitched considerably. My bunk was horizontal to the long axis of the ship and as the vessel rolled from side to side I experienced the sensation of hanging, head-downward, from a horizontal bar, half the time. The trunks and everything else in our stateroom that was not tied or fastened in some way slid back and forth over the floor. The first morning of the storm our breakfast slid off the cook's range onto the floor. Fully half the chairs in the officers' dining saloon rolled off the tables and broke. Had we not the table top frames adjusted to the table to prevent the dishes sliding off, no doubt we would have been eating from our mess kits before arriving in port. Except for the two days mentioned, one could not desire a smoother voyage. There were days when the ocean was as smooth as a mill pond and the air warm to the extent that one was uncomfortable with a coat. We left the States in the midst of a heavy thunderstorm and arrived in France midst sunshine and flowers. We were piloted into the most beautiful harbor I have ever seen. To be sure, land of any sort would appeal to anyone who had been sailing two weeks on the ocean, yet taking that into consideration, I'll not alter my statement. As we sailed into the inner harbor we were close to land. The shoreline was steep and rocky, in part very similar to Laguna, and the fields were green for miles inland. Through the field glasses I was able to make out distinctly many gardens. Everything in the vegetable line seems to be planted and is growing luxuriantly. There are no large fields; the land is divided into small plots by hedges of berries or shrubbery of some sort. At present I am living in a tent that is situated with hundreds of others, surrounded by a high stone wall built by Napoleon. Within this enclosure are several of the large stone and brick barracks which housed many of his troops at one time. Where Napoleon's men drilled in years past many of our soldiers are tramping the same ground. All the land I have seen is under a high state of cultivation and judging from the appearance of the growing products it is very fertile. The most striking characteristic is the large number of women in mourning—I am sure half of them. So many of the people seem to be poverty stricken. There is an enormous amount of begging. Hundreds of children 3 years and up meet the soldiers marching to camp and beg for pennies. They think the American soldiers have lots of money. I expect to leave here before you receive this letter as we are just resting and getting cleaned up. The climate is beautiful—warm days and cool nights.

IS RAINIEST PLACE IN WORLD, 426 INCHES

The reputation of being the rainiest place in the world has long been enjoyed by the hill station Cherrapunji, on the slope of the Himalayas, in Assam, with a mean rainfall that has been variously stated, according to the length of the record and the particular rain gauge in question. The latest official value, based on a forty-year record of the Cherrapunji police station, is 426 inches a year. Blanford, the widely-known authority on Indian meteorology, thought that the mean in some places at Cherrapunji exceeded 500 inches, but nowhere amounted to 600 inches. So far as actual records go, the rainfall at the Indian station is surpassed by that recently reported by H. D. Campbell of Stanford University, as having been measured at Waialeale, in the island of Kauai, Hawaii, though the record covers only five years and the mean might be reduced by a longer period of observation. In 1912-1916 inclusive, the Hawaiian station, which is 5075 feet above sea level, recorded a mean rainfall of 518 inches, or more than forty-three feet. Mr. Campbell says that Waialeale is seldom free from rain clouds and the precipitation is almost incessant; hence the whole surrounding region is a bog, bearing low trees thickly draped with dripping masses of moss and liverworts.—Scientific American.

MARKET BUREAU IS OPENED BY DEPARTMENT

Daily Reports Will Be Distributed to Farmers Wanting Them

Fruit and vegetable growers of Southern California are now being aided in the marketing of their crops by the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture, which has recently established an office in Los Angeles. The 15,000 miles of leased telegraph wires, connecting practically all of the important receiving markets in the United States, have now been placed at the disposal of growers in Southern California. The local office at 206 Wholesale Terminal Building is one of a number recently established on the Pacific coast, and with the opening of these western offices, the Bureau of Markets is now able to furnish practically complete information covering the markets of the entire United States.

News Service

This market news service has had a rapid growth until now there are thirty-five offices similar to the one at Los Angeles, which are in operation daily for the purpose of furnishing quick, reliable and accurate information on market conditions on fruits and vegetables to both producer and consumer. Each of these offices is in charge of a trained produce man, who thoroughly understands the business, and who reports the arrivals, quality, condition and demand for all seasonable perishable products which are arriving on his market each morning. This man is on the ground early in the morning, while actual sales are being made, and reports conditions from personal observation.

This information is telegraphed to Washington, where it is re-distributed by wire to all sections of the country, printed by duplicating machines in the various branch offices, and distributed by noon of each day, free of charge, to all interested growers and shippers. The local office also receives reports from the division superintendents on every railroad in the United States moving fruits and vegetables in carlot quantities and publishes a complete record of all shipments during the previous twenty-four hours.

Put Name on List

This service is absolutely free of cost, and any person desiring to receive these market bulletins may have his name placed on the mailing list by writing to the Los Angeles office at 206 Wholesale Terminal Building and stating the particular crops on which he desires to secure reports. At the present time, daily market news bulletins are being issued on cantaloupes, cabbages, potatoes and onions, but, as the season advances, bulletins will be issued covering practically all vegetables and deciduous fruits.

In addition to the furnishing of the market news information, the Los Angeles office is also authorized to make inspections and issue certificates as to the condition of carloads of produce arriving on the market. These certificates are issued only at the request of the shipper, or shipper's agent, and are accepted in all courts as prime facie evidence as to the true condition.

The Los Angeles office is headquarters for the activities described above for all the territory west of the Rocky Mountains. O. W. Schleussner is the supervisor in charge of the western offices, at present including, aside from the Los Angeles branch, San Francisco, Portland, Spokane and Butte. Applications for inspection, or for market news service, should be made to H. H. Warner, 206 Wholesale Terminal Building, who is in charge of the Los Angeles office.

Corsets cleaned, altered and repaired. Mrs. Cavins, 116 East Fourth.

SPORT SKIRT OF WHITE GABARDINE

When there is active sport on the program, a hot tennis game, a picnic, a canoe trip or a tramp, the white tub skirt is indispensable because it will survive hard treatment and return from the tubbing as smart as ever. This separate skirt is of white gabardine. The cut is moderately full, and the broad crush girde and generous slit pockets mark the 1918 model.

WOULD USE WATER POWER, SAVE OIL FOR WAR PURPOSES

Southern California Edison Company has made application to the War Finance Corporation for a loan of approximately $20,000,000 to comply with recommendations of the State Railroad Commission and the Fuel Administration. The greater portion of this large sum is required to meet these recommendations for the development of additional water power plants to furnish hydro-electric energy as a substitute for the rapidly disappearing fuel oil supply. The paramount necessity for a very large supply of fuel oil for the navy and merchant marine makes the development of additional water power plants of prime importance for conducting industries and bringing more agricultural lands under production. If this loan is granted, the money will be available for construction work, employing a large amount of labor and the purchase of material, much of which can be secured in Southern California.

Chairman John E. Miller of the company says that these water power plants if built would provide additional power supply of approximately 100,000 horsepower, and the output would be substituted for one and one-half million barrels of oil per annum.

FAST BASEBALL PROMISED IN ENGLAND BIG LEAGUE

Eight Teams In All-Summer Schedule, First Time In History of Mother Country

LONDON, June 15.—Eight fast ball clubs are away to a running start, playing league baseball in Old England on an all-summer schedule for the first time in the history of the grand old game—and of England.

The Anglo-American League is made up of Buddies and Jacks from the American ranks and Canadian Tommies from the hospitals and the pay and records offices. There isn't a professional in the whole organization, although every club has several stars who can lay claim to minor league fame back home before we came into the war.

This is the list of clubs:

American Army Headquarters, American Navy Headquarters, Hounslow American Aviation, Northolt American Aviation, Sunningdale Canadian Hospital, Epsom Canadian Hospital, Taplow Canadian Hospital, Canadian Pay and Records Offices.

Admiral Sims sent the outfit away from the barrier at a regular Mexican holiday, when he tossed the first ball at the Army-Navy Headquarters game. Major General Biddle, commanding all the American troops in England, sat beside him in the stand, and scattered among the overflow crowd there were hundreds of notable English and American soldiers and sailors, diplomats, bankers and plain folk. The field was fringed with the khaki and two shades of blue of the fighting men—the dark blue of the sailor-men and the lighter-hued hospital uniform of the lads who've been smashed up at the front.

Gold lace cracked peanuts and drank ginger ale and rode old Arlie Latham on his decisions as umpire. But Arlie doesn't mind after all these years in the spot-light glare of frenzied fans.

Thirty Angels There

Among the spectators in the stands that day were 30 American business men whose money financed the league's get-away, and every one of them had paid his way through the turnstile. There are no season passes for "the boys" from the 18th ward in this league.

There are three reasons why these 30 Americans devoted their time and ventured their money to make the Anglo-American league a ball-playing reality.

First, they wanted to give the doughboys and Jacks their favorite summer dish for their leisure time. That's obvious.

Secondly, they wanted to collect money for charity. The British Red Cross and other approved British war charities certainly will cut a rich divvy from this season of bulging stry-pay crowds at ball games where nobody draws any pay but the ump and the league manager.

To Show Britishers

Thirdly, they wanted to show the Englishman all about baseball, how it's played and what regular fellows play the game.

Posters are up on the billboards all over London announcing next week's games and the standings of the clubs. American business men take their families to the games and are gradually interesting their English friends in the league race. First off, the average Englishman thinks baseball must be something like cricket, but after a little friendly coaching he begins to savvy what it's all about. They don't all like it at the first game, or even the second, but some of them had seen baseball last year, and now it's beginning to take hold.

Howard E. Booker, San Francisco, an ex-champion roller skater, is the business manager of the Anglo-American league. He has promoted roller-skating competitions and prize-fights all over Europe. Booker even believes that after the war he can make a success of a professional European league, comprising the principal cities of England, France and Spain.

"Pro" Players Banned

For a time this spring England was threatened with an invasion of two teams of professional ball players gathered from bush league clubs throughout America. Admiral Sims put his foot down on this plan, and Booker then decided upon the plan to popularize baseball throughout the Simon-pure athletics of Army and Navy players.

General Biddle crimped the arrangements for a brief moment when Cross and the other backers wanted to divide the proceeds among British and American war charities.

"Give it all to British charities," said General Biddle. "We Americans have come over here to do and give—not to receive."

The promoters "got him."

"MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY," from James W. Gerard's startling book, will be shown at the Temple Theatre next Sunday and Monday, no advance in prices. It is interesting to note that this film will be shown in Santa Ana direct from a six weeks run in Los Angeles at advanced prices.

Gerard's Film Production Tells Remarkable Story of Teutonic Intrigue

The most important film production of the year is the big superlative made from Ambassador James W. Gerard's startling book, "My Four Years in Germany."

The picture vividly shows the incidents that forced America into the war and the intrigues of Germany's militaristic leaders.

Beginning when the first war cloud began to gather on the European horizon, the picture begins with the Zaber incident, the cutting down of a lame shoemaker by a young Prussian officer. Then follows Gerard's presentation at the Imperial German court. The gradual rise of the spirit against militarism. The defiance of the Reichstag. The shooting at Sarajevo. The Kiel celebration in which the British fleet took part. The meeting of Sir Edward Goschen and Hollweg and the proposal that England stand by while France is beaten. The announcement of danger of war on July 31. The ultimatum to Russia. Gerard's futile efforts to avoid the war. The order to mobilize. The address of the Kaiser on August 4. The rape of Belgium. The taking over of the British embassy by Gerard. The exodus of Americans. The Kaiser's explanation of the war, so different from that of Von Bethman Hollweg. The scene before the Japanese embassy. The battle of the Marne and the Aisne. The raid on the American embassy. The cruel treatment of prisoners in camps. The attacks of the press on America. The sinking of the Lusitania. President Wilson's notes. The unrestricted submarine warfare. The Kaiser's threat that he would stand no nonsense from America after the war. The Bryant shooting. The Roger Casement incident. The deportation of Belgian women and children. The dinner to the ambassador so soon to be followed by the break of relations between America and Germany. Mr. Gerard's detention as a virtual prisoner. His return and America's answer to the Kaiser in the troops going over the top and the armies over there.

At the Temple Theater Sunday and Monday.

"Automobile stealing is not quite such a popular pastime in Sonora as it seems to be in Los Angeles, and while California probably will not adopt the Sonora method, it is certainly effectual. And it is not so many years since Southern California imposed the penalty of hanging for horse stealing. Just why an automobile thief should get probation when a horse thief got a hempen necktie is one of those things that nobody seems to be able to figure out satisfactorily. The Sonora method of handling the matter certainly has the merit of consistency in addition to its other advantages."

MEXICANS HAVE VERY EFFECTIVE CURE FOR AUTOMOBILE THEFTS

The state of Sonora, Mexico, has a method of dealing with the auto thief that is decidedly simple, swift and effective, according to information from J. F. Johnson, automobile dealer at Nogales, Ariz. Johnson sells many cars to the wealthy ranchers of the rich Sonora valleys in Mexico.

"Recently a thief broke into a Nogales garage and made off with a new Hudson super-six," Johnson writes. "Very possibly he intended to use it in the bootlegging business. At any rate, the thief crossed the border with the super-six and disappeared in Sonora. The authorities in Mexico were notified, and it was not long until the Guaymas police force had nailed the thief. The Sonora police force is operating very efficiently these days, and though Guaymas is hundreds of miles from Nogales, they were on the alert for stray super-sixes."

"The trial was a short and simple affair. The thief was very evidently in possession of a car that he had not obtained by any legal process, and when the trial had made this sufficiently plain the erstwhile pilot of the super-six was lined up in front of an adobe wall and shot."

"The authorities immediately sent the car back to Nogales to its rightful owner, and it arrived there none the worse for wear, in just a week after it had been stolen."

"Automobile stealing is not quite such a popular pastime in Sonora as it seems to be in Los Angeles, and while California probably will not adopt the Sonora method, it is certainly effectual. And it is not so many years since Southern California imposed the penalty of hanging for horse stealing. Just why an automobile thief should get probation when a horse thief got a hempen necktie is one of those things that nobody seems to be able to figure out satisfactorily. ## MOTOR CAMPERS PLAN FARM WORK DURING SUMMER VACATION

The necessity of motor cars for transporting farm labor this summer and fall is beginning to be realized in Kansas and other wheat states. A few weeks ago, a mention of motor cars in connection with moving labor was scoffed at, the response being that railroads and the farmers themselves would take care of transportation. Now, however, frantic efforts have mobilized the motor owners for definite help.

The farmer will be too busy on actual production to send to the railroad station for workers; and there will be innumerable situations where labor can be transported across the country at a great saving in time, by motor cars. The local Councils of Defense and local representatives of the State Farm Labor Direction are generally seeking now to organize motor volunteers for handling the labor. These volunteers will also be available for taking repair parts and supplies to the farms during the busy corn cultivating and harvest season.

Scores of small parties of three to six are being organized in cities, to spend their vacations of two weeks to a month or so in motor cars with camping outfits, doing work on farms. One of the hardest labor situations to handle is in certain districts of the west where house accommodations are inadequate, but where outside help has to be secured to care for crops. Under the old conditions labor seemed willing to rough it, but it is considered inadvisable to send some of the city volunteer workers by railroad to these places. Such conditions can be met adequately by camping parties.

Duked, Tenn.—"I live on a farm and keep house for six in my family. I got into a nervous run-down condition so it seemed as though I would die. A friend advised me to try Vinol. I have been greatly improved by its use and am better and stronger, in every way."

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Goodwin's case is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weak, run-down system and create strength. Rowley Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.—Adv.
